

Abstract:

A high fat animal feed tub is provided. Higher fat levels are achieved through the use of a low moisture, high fat ingredient in the formulation of the high fat animal feed tub of the invention. The process for producing such tubs is also provided. Use of such tubs provides a high energy feed source for animals, especially beef and dairy cattle.

#16109